Autonomy and Independence – The American Revolution

This month, we all enjoy celebrating the American Revolution. Independence Day marks the day that the colonies declared their independence from England. This was the day the Continental Congress approved the final wording of the Declaration of Independence – July 4, 1776. So what are we really celebrating with our hamburgers, hot dogs, and fireworks?

Carrie Durden
Board President

Tracy Bensley
General Manager

The American Revolution was about breaking free from the shackles of oppression. A wealthy king in England was taxing the colonies to recover money he lost in an unrelated war (French and Indian War of 1754 to 1763), and the parliament continually exercised harsh, unfair control over the colonists. The hard work of the American colonists was being unfairly taxed to make wealthy Englishmen wealthier. To show them who was boss, they were being treated harshly in the process.

The American Revolution was about autonomy and independence.

So, how could this possibly relate to your electric cooperative?

The creation of the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) was also about breaking free from shackles of oppression. This time, just 160 years later, it was hard working rural Americans that were asked to labor unfairly to support the wealthy. To make matters worse, these good people were not being provided with the same life-changing electricity that urban communities received without paying unfairly high prices for it. Our parents and grandparents had to pay exorbitant prices to have electricity. Where did the money go? Of course it went to the wealthy shareholders of investor owned utilities to make them wealthier.

Just as in 1776, rural Americans in the mid-1930s had had enough of the oppression and fought their oppressors. This time, guns and cannons were not needed – only the mighty pen.

On May 20, 1936, Franklin Delano Roosevelt signed into law the Rural Electrification Act. This Act changed the face of rural America, and ultimately the entire nation, in ways imagined by few. With electricity to assist in daily chores, rural Americans became decidedly more productive and helped to drive an economy that would become the envy of the world within just two decades. Few moments in history are marked by such dramatic change.

What do the American Revolution and your electric cooperative have in common? Both were a result of a desire for autonomy and independence, which is one of the seven cornerstones of every cooperative business. So be sure to thank God this month for the autonomy and independence fought for by our ancestors that has provided us with our freedom and with affordable electricity in rural areas.

Independence Day and your electric cooperative – as American as apple pie!

Youth Tour 2016

Students from all over the country journey to Washington, D.C. each year to learn about electric cooperatives and how decisions made at our nation's capital affect us all. Co-ops from the GREAT state of Florida sent 33 students and four of those were representing Talquin Electric Co-op!!

ELECTRIC RATE CHANGE

Talquin recognizes that our Members want their cooperative to have competitive rates while remaining financially stable so that we can provide safe, reliable service. Our present rate structure continues to make our revenue dependent upon weather conditions and the amount of energy sold. Therefore, effective September 1, 2016, Talquin Electric Cooperative will adjust electric rates. Our wholesale power cost adjustment (WPCA), water, and wastewater rates will not be affected by this change.

This will be our first adjustment since September 2013 and will only affect Residential Service (RS) and General Service (GS) rates. This rate change will result in an increase to facilities charges and a decrease to energy charges that will help stabilize our revenue. We will also have a slight increase needed to cover increased cost in right of way maintenance, poles, wire and other supplies. Members that use 1,000 kilowatt hours a month will see their bill increase $3.40, or 2.77%, which is less than a 1% increase per year over the last three years.

The table below shows the current and revised rates:

ELECTRIC RATES AS OF SEPTEMBER 1, 2016

Facility Charge	Current Rate	New Rate
RS – Single Phase	$20.00	$30.00
RS – Three Phase	$35.00	$45.00
GS – Single Phase	$20.00	$30.00
GS – Three Phase	$35.00	$45.00
Energy Charge	Current Rate	New Rate
RS & GS
First 1,000 kWh	$0.10610 per kWh	$0.09950 per kWh
Over 1,000 kWh	$0.12110 per kWh	$0.12110 per kWh

Employee Spotlights

Congratulations to Steve Timmons and the Safety Department for receiving the Certificate of Safety Accreditation for Talquin Electric Co-op! This is quite an honor, and we want to congratulate Steve on all of his hard work and dedication.

We are proud to announce that Talquin Electric Co-op received the Tree Line USA accreditation. This accreditation recognizes utility companies who demonstrate best practices on how trees and utilities can co-exist for the benefit of their communities and the Members they serve. Congratulations to Chad Locke and the Right of Way Department for all of their hard work and dedication in receiving this accreditation for Talquin!

Member of the Month

Talquin Members William and Ruth Garrison know the true meaning of Community – a group of people living together and practicing common ownership. The Garrisons first fell in love with Lake Iamonia in 1981 and have made it their community and home ever since. They raised three sons, have six grandchildren who love to come visit, and a dog Puddles that loves to explore – all on the lake! Mr. Garrison has had canoes, airboats, duck boats and fishing boats at one time or another due to his love of the water. His love of fishing led him to start the Sure Ketch Lure Company, in addition to owning and running Garrison Design and Construction Company, Inc. Mrs. Garrison has a beautiful sun room where she used to teach yoga. And you guessed it – it has a beautiful view overlooking the lake! Talquin Electric Co-op got to know the Garrisons while out handling some right of way trimming around their home. Mrs. Garrison was worried about the trimming due to the birds and other wildlife that lived around the right of way area. After all, they are part of lake living's appeal. But she worked closely with our vegetation manager, and the trimming was completed to everyone's satisfaction. Thank you, Mr. and Mrs. Garrison, for being our Members!

Word of the Month

Rural: ru-ral (adjective)

In, relating to, or characteristic of the countryside rather than the town.

Talquin Electric Cooperative, Inc. was formed in June of 1940 by a group of 200 rural residents who banded together to form their own electric cooperative.

Tree Planting

When planning to plant trees around your home, remember these tips:

- Be aware of the location of power lines – above and underground
- Plant a minimum of 20 feet away from poles, wires and any other Talquin Electric equipment
- Know the average mature height/size of the tree you are planting – be sure to plant clear of power lines for future growth
- Call 8-1-1 a few days BEFORE YOU DIG – underground utilities are located at no charge to the caller
- Call Talquin if you are unsure about the impact your planting might have on power lines

Here are some suggested trees to plant in our area that will have little or no impact on power lines:

Sweet Viburnum

Dwarf Burford

Holly

Podocarpus

Pineapple Guava

Waxleaf Ligustrum

Wax Myrtle

Ocala Anise

“Tonto” Crepe Myrtle

“Zhu Zhou” Loropetalum

Tea Olive

Vitex

For 45 years, 2-1-1 Big Bend, Inc. has connected people to services and programs in the Big Bend region. Since 2002 the agency has utilized the three-digit 2-1-1 number for easy access to its 24/7 hotline counselors. 2-1-1 Big Bend is now offering specialized information to parents who have concerns about delays with their children’s physical or emotional development, behavior, or learning ability.

Help Me Grow promotes the early identification of developmental, behavioral, or educational concerns, then links children and their families to services in the community. When a parent or caregiver is not sure where to start, Help Me Grow can help navigate the system and connect families to needed services. Help Me Grow works with several agencies in the area to improve access and collaboration, including Health Start, Whole Child Leon, Early Learning Coalition of the Big Bend, FDLRS, and Children’s Medical Services.

Every child develops differently. If you are concerned about your child’s growth and development, call Help Me Grow at 2-1-1 or watch the Help Me Grow developmental videos linked through the www.211bigbend.org website. Knowledgeable, friendly staff members are ready to assist. Services provided are confidential and free to the community.

Anyone can call 2-1-1 or 850-617-6333 for 24/7 short term crisis counseling and information and referral assistance.

RECIPE

According to UF IFAS Extension office, July is National Blueberry Month! Blueberries are one of the few fruits native to North America, and have been enjoyed for centuries, both wild and cultivated. In fact, The United States is the world's largest producer of blueberries. The Florida Blueberry Growers Association (www.blueberriesfromflorida.com) has recipes for drinks, breakfast foods, breads, appetizers, salads, dressings, sauces, entrée items and more. Or try the one below from our own 2015 CURRENTly Cooking Cookbook!

Sinful Blueberry Pie

2 cups graham cracker crumbs

1/2 cup softened butter

1/4 cup sugar

1 large package of cream cheese

1 cup sugar

1/2 cup evaporated milk

1 1/2 cups pecan pieces

1 can blueberry pie filling

Whipped cream (Fresh or commercially prepared)

Blend graham cracker crumbs, butter and sugar in a bowl. Press this mixture into a 9" x 13" pan.

Bake in preheated 300 degree oven for 8 minutes. (A commercially prepared graham cracker crumb pie shell may be substituted.)

Mix cream cheese, sugar, evaporated milk and spread over baked crust.

Sprinkle 1/2 cup of pecan pieces over top of mixture.

Spread blueberry pie filling over pie mixture.

Top pie with whipped cream and remaining cup of pecan pieces. (Commercially prepared dairy topping may be substituted for whipped cream.)

Refrigerate pie.

Shining Star

The Stars and Stripes has long been a powerful symbol of Americanism. According to the American Legion, this is an ideology or belief in devotion, loyalty, or allegiance to the United States of America or to its flag, traditions, customs, culture, symbols, institutions, or form of government. This month's Shining Star and one of our 2015 Youth Tour alumni, Tanner Clemons knows this meaning all too well. Tanner has long known that he wants to serve in the United States Armed Forces. For college, he had his eye set on the United States Naval Academy, followed by a career in the U.S. Navy just like his great uncle. He competed against thousands of applicants for a very small allotment of available spots. After the lengthy admissions process, which includes grade and test requirements; nominations from Senator Marco Rubio and Congresswoman Gwen Graham; and other requirements, Tanner received his appointment into the academy. We are honored to name Tanner Clemons our July Shining Star and wish him the best as he goes through the academy and on to serve our great country!
