When the Next Storm Comes, Talquin Will be Ready!

Hurricane Barry, the second named storm of the 2019 Atlantic hurricane season, kept a safe distance from Florida, merely passing by on its way through the Gulf of Mexico to Texas and Louisiana. But seeing that storm form just after the July 4th holiday brought memories to the surface for those of us who have lived through storm after storm in Florida year after year.

Every storm is an important reminder of the hard work and dedication of the employees at Talquin.

It was less than one year ago when Category 5 Hurricane Michael came over Florida's Panhandle, devastating Florida's Forgotten Coast and many rural communities inland. Days before, Florida families were preparing for the storm. Everyone stocked up on food, water and supplies. Many boarded up their homes and businesses. Some evacuated the region to safer places.

The employees at Talquin are prepared for hurricane season. Each year, they participate in pre-storm briefings - reviewing the latest best practices and safety protocols for linemen to use when responding to natural disasters. They complete a series of trainings and pre-storm drills in which they respond to hypothetical situations so they know what to do when faced with the same situation in real life.

And while most Floridians were caring for their families when Hurricane Michael struck, the employees at Talquin were staged to respond. As soon as the danger had passed, linemen and other support employees deployed to begin getting us back online.

Carrie Durden
Board President

Tracy Bensley
General Manager

After Hurricane Michael, 99% of Talquin's Members were without power.

Talquin employees, supported by many more linemen and other support personnel from co-ops around the country, worked 16-hour days for 16 days to restore power to the homes and businesses of our four county service area.

This was not only a big task, but an extremely dangerous one. After a storm, linemen are forced to navigate blocked roads. They move around debris to get poles back up. They come across downed power lines covered in water, which can be life-threatening.

We remain extremely grateful to the linemen and the many other team members who played a role in helping this community recover, restore, and rebuild after Hurricane Michael.

While Hurricane Barry passed by Florida this time, there will be another hurricane headed our way soon. And when it does, Talquin will be ready!

Supporting Our Community

Girls in the photo are from Troops 103 and 102 in Tallahassee; Council representatives are TriciaRae Stancato (Chief Development and Brand Officer) & Tamra Wynn (Program Manager).

Girl Scouts of Gateway Council plan to use the money for Camp for all Seasons (served by Talquin), which was damaged during Hurricane Michael.

The Liberty County Senior Center was damaged during Hurricane Michael and has not been open due to storm damage. They hope to reopen sometime in September.

Since 2012, CoBank (one of Talquin's lenders) has been partnering with cooperatives around the nation in their Sharing Success program to provide needed funds to charitable organizations in rural areas. Talquin applied for grants again this year, and again all were awarded!

The recipients of this year's grants were United Way of the Big Bend, Girl Scouts of Gateway Council and the Liberty County Senior Center. All three of these organizations received $2,000 as part of the Sharing Success program.

Join us in saying thank you to these organizations for the fantastic work they do in our community. Talquin Electric Cooperative is proud to be able to help support them in continuing their missions!

Talquin partners with United Way each year by participating in the Reading Pals program and Read United. Employees also donate each year through payroll deduction. In 2018, Talquin employees donated over $14,000.

How is Your Sewer Usage Calculated?

Maximum residential monthly rate charge based on the greater of:

- A) Highest metered water usage billed during previous months of January, February, March and April
- B) 10,500 gallons of water

To explain, the sewer cap is set in the month of May every year; the system will look at each Member's water usage for the first 4 months of the year and set the cap at the highest usage during those months even if the usage is lower than 10,500 gallons. (Ex)-If the highest usage is 9,000 gallons during the said timeframe, then 9,000 becomes the cap. If the Member does not have any usage for those 4 months, then the system sets the cap at 10,500 until the next year in May when the Member has usage during Jan-Apr to calculate a true cap. Water Commercial accounts have no sewer cap.

Proponents of Misleading Energy Amendment Fail to Refute Cooperatives' Concerns in Supreme Court Brief

Florida's electric cooperatives are seriously concerned about the proposed amendment to Florida's Constitution that would reregulate the state's energy industry. The misleading amendment would have a dramatic impact on the Members who rely on electric cooperatives for safe, affordable and reliable electricity. These concerns were outlined in a brief that the Florida electric cooperatives filed with the Florida Supreme Court last April, but when sponsors of the amendment had a chance to respond, they ignored the cooperatives' arguments.

The "Right to Competitive Energy Market for Customers of Investor-Owned Utilities; Allowing Energy Choice" is a proposed Constitutional amendment that its sponsors are seeking to place on the ballot in November 2020. First, it must be reviewed by the Florida Supreme Court to determine its validity.

As part of this process, the Florida Electric Cooperatives Association (FECA), of which Talquin Electric Cooperative (Talquin) is a member, filed a brief with the Florida Supreme Court on April 18 demonstrating the ways in which the proposed amendment misleads voters and directly impacts cooperatives' Members.

The brief explains that the amendment misleads voters because it claims cooperatives' Members are unaffected, when in fact, the amendment would terminate wholesale power supply agreements and invalidate service area boundary agreements. These agreements are critically important for cooperatives to meet and plan for the needs of their Members and keep rates as low as possible.

Additionally, the amendment would create new layers of regulation with the establishment of an "independent market monitor," but this important information is left out of the amendment summary that would be printed on the ballot for voters to consider.

Furthermore, the proposed amendment violates the requirement that a ballot initiative be focused on a single subject rather than lumping together many changes in one proposal.

Sponsors of the amendment had an opportunity to respond to the concerns outlined by FECA's brief, but their most recent filings neglected to do so.

In June, FECA submitted a second brief to the Florida Supreme Court reiterating these concerns and calling on the court to invalidate the amendment.

Florida's Supreme Court heard oral arguments in this case on August 28, and a decision is expected sometime before the end of 2019. If the measure appears on the ballot in 2020, Florida law requires 60 percent of the vote to amend the Constitution.

While the Florida Supreme Court considers the validity of this proposed amendment to our state's constitution, we must take the time to read the fine print. There, we find the amendment will directly and dramatically impact the Members of Florida's electric cooperatives. We learn that important information, such as the creation of new layers of bureaucracy, would be left off the ballot summary. Yet, the sponsors of the measure are not even willing to answer our questions and concerns.

PCA Adjustment

Effective October 1, 2019, Talquin will reduce the Wholesale Power Cost Adjustment from a credit of ($0.0035) to a credit of ($0.0055), resulting in an overall decrease on bills of 2 mills, or $2 per 1,000 kWh.

Youth Tour 2019

From touring our nation's monuments to meeting with their representatives in D.C., this was a trip to remember.

Planned Outages for Service Improvements

Talquin Electric continually performs maintenance on the electric system throughout the year to ensure we are providing the best possible service to the Membership. We are able to perform most of this work with the electricity on, so you often do not even notice the work going on around you. However, there are times when we need to interrupt your electric service in order to perform maintenance activities. We call these disruptions in service planned outages.

As you know, electricity is a powerful and dangerous form of energy. Planned outages are sometimes required to ensure the safety of employees, Members, and electrical equipment. We know that outages are inconvenient, but our objective is to be safe while we provide the best service possible to all Talquin Members.

Before a planned outage occurs, we will notify affected Members in advance so they can make preparations. When a planned outage is necessary, our crews will work as quickly and safely as possible to restore electric service with minimal disruption.

Tips for Preparing for a Planned Outage:

- If you have medical support equipment that is dependent on electricity, be ready with your back-up plan to maintain the use of your equipment.
- Have flashlights with fresh batteries handy.
- Minimize the opening of refrigerator and freezer doors to maintain temperature.
- Shut off or disconnect all sensitive equipment, such as computers, fax machines, televisions, microwaves, etc. before the outage begins.
- Leave a lamp or radio on so you will know when electric service is restored.
- Charge all mobile phones.
- It is very important to turn off any major appliances like washing machines or air conditioners prior to the outage. This will prevent them from unexpectedly coming on when the power is restored.
- Double check to make sure all heat-producing appliances (stoves, toaster ovens, irons, and hair curlers) are turned off. This will minimize any fire hazard if the power is restored while you are away.
- Make sure you know how to override or manually operate your security gates or garage doors.
- If you have a generator, be sure to follow all safety guidelines. Please refer to <https://www.talquinelectric.com/resources/generator-use/> for more information.

If you have questions about planned outages in your area, please call us at (850) 627-7651.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

It has become necessary to perform some line maintenance for the electric service to your account at <SERVICE_AD>, <CITY>, <STATE>. To facilitate this action we will need to interrupt the service to your account for approximately four (4) hours. This work will be performed between the hours of 8:00am and 12:00pm on Wednesday July 24, 2019. We appreciate your cooperation in this matter. If you have any questions, please contact Talquin Electric Cooperative at (850)627-7651.

Thank you for the opportunity to serve you.

We are happy to announce the opening of Talquin's new Crawfordville Operations Center. The 14,800 sq. foot facility is located adjacent to the Crawfordville Member Service Office and is the new home of the operations personnel that previously reported to our south Tallahassee location on Crossway Road. The new center will assist Talquin with more efficient operations and help improve reliability for the expanding utility systems in the Wakulla County service territory. To officially announce our latest addition to the Membership, the Wakulla County Chamber of Commerce did a Ribbon Cutting Ceremony.

We would also like to thank some of the organizations that attended and participated. They are: Congressman Dr. Neal Dunn's office; Senator Marco Rubio's office; The Wakulla Board of County Commissioners; The Wakulla County School Board, Superintendent and staff; The Wakulla County Chamber of Commerce; Wakulla County Administrator David Edwards and staff; The Wakulla County Sheriff's Office; Seminole Electric Cooperative; Florida Electric Cooperatives Association; CSI Contractors, Inc.; Joel Sampson Architect Inc.; and Tri-County Electric Cooperative.
